A note from Peter

I come from Slovakia, and I live in Australia now. I'm a dad to Sakura, and I made Mr. Pepo, the light-bulb inventor, with his robot Luna and his dog Sakura.

My mind works differently. I call that a mental ability, not a disability. As a young person I didn't have words for how my brain worked. Forms, rules and crowded rooms often felt like they were made for someone else.

This journal is yours. Use it to learn how your brain runs, track your energy, and find the words to tell people what you need. Nobody has to read it unless you want them to. There are no wrong answers.

Peter

How to use this journal

- Print the daily page as many times as you like.
- Write, draw, tick, or use one word. All of it counts.
- Skip anything. Come back when you feel like it.
- Use the user manual page to explain yourself to people you trust.

Who I am

My name, or what I like to be called:

What my brain is great at:

The things I could talk about for hours:

What drains my battery:

What recharges me:

My kind of mind:

ADHD, autism, both, something else, or not sure yet

My brain's user manual

Something you can show a friend, parent or teacher.

When I'm overwhelmed, I might look like:

What actually helps in that moment:

What does not help (please don't):

The best way to explain things to me:

The best way to give me feedback:

Signs I'm doing well:

Date:

My energy today:

◯ low ◯ okay ◯ high

My social battery:

◯ empty ◯ half ◯ full

How much I masked today:

◯ not at all ◯ some ◯ a lot

One word for my mood:

Ideas and thoughts on loop (park them here):

A focus win, big or small:

A hard moment, and what helped:

Something I did just for me:

Tomorrow's one small step:

Weekly look back

What worked for me this week:

What I learned about my brain:

Friends, family or online people who got me:

One thing I want to try next week:

Goals I actually care about

Big goals, broken into small steps.

A school or study goal:

Small steps:

- ○
- ○
- ○

A passion project goal:

Small steps:

- ○
- ○
- ○

A friendship or life goal:

Small steps:

- ○

Speaking up for myself

Things you can say when you need something. Tick the ones you'd use and write your own.

- ◯ "Can I have a minute to think?"
- ◯ "It's too loud for me in here."
- ◯ "Can you show me an example?"
- ◯ "Can you write that down for me?"
- ◯ "I need a short break."
- ◯ "I'm not being rude, I'm processing."

My own words for asking for help:

People I can go to:

What I want people to understand about minds like mine:

Free space

Draw, map your ideas, or write whatever your mind needs.
